

Summit Speakers Spring 2011

Dirk Gates: CEO at Xirrus, founder and former president of Xircom, Inc. (1998); negotiated sale of Xircom to Intel Corporation in March 2001; former vice president and general manager of mobile communications at Intel; Bachelor's degree in Engineering from California State University at Northridge; MBA from Pepperdine.

Kate Jones: "Our Best Bites" food blogger, co-author of Our Best Bites: Mormon Moms in the Kitchen, a cookbook published through Deseret Book (Shadow Mountain); Winner of Better Homes and Gardens Blogger Cook-Off; Bachelor's degree in English from BYU; married with two children.

Sarah Wells: "Our Best Bites" food blogger, co-author of Our Best Bites: Mormon Moms in the Kitchen, a cookbook published through Deseret Book (Shadow Mountain); Winner of Better Homes and Gardens Blogger Cook-Off; Bachelor's degree in Horticulture and landscape design from BYU; married with three children.

Gary Lewis: Producer/Event Coordinator. Clients include, among others, NBC Sports, Fox Sports, The Discovery Channel, Dream Works, Bob Hope Golf Classic, Tokyo Broadcast Company, PBS, NFL, NBA and Dentsu Advertising Company. Tour Manager for the USO. Trips w/celebrity friends to visit troops in Iraq, Afghanistan, Egypt, Turkey, Okinawa, Guantanamo Bay, Kuwait, UAE, and other countries. Member of SAR Lake Tahoe Dive Team.

Robert Whitman: Chairman of the Board of Directors and CEO of Franklin Covey; former President and Co-CEO of Hampstead Group, LLC; one of four Managing Partners and member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee for Trammell Crow Group; Bachelor's degree in Finance from U of U; MBA from Harvard.